

PROFILE – DAVID BENCHOAM

WEBMASTER

David Benchoam, a graduate of DISC 2009 was elected as the DICA State Coordinator (NSW & ACT) at the 2014 AGM and re-elected for consecutive terms since then as DICA Webmaster.

David was first elected to Council at the 2010 AGM and appointed to the role of Webmaster. He has been instrumental in the reshaping of DICA's web image through its new website at www.dica.org.au. David was elected to the position of Vice President (DISC) at the 2011 AGM and to the President's position at the 2013 AGM; volunteering to concurrently continue in his Webmaster role since.

David is a director and General Manager of Sydney based SME Benelec Pty Ltd, working in the group for over 35 years. Benelec is a successful niche Defence Supplier of radio communication systems and technology. Benelec is also a local manufacturer of RF Antennas and RF components in all bands from 1-6000MHz. He has held senior management roles in a range of voluntary organisations and has remained passionate about the building the links between Defence and Industry. He graduated in Electrical Engineering from UTS in 1993. David is a father of four boys and looks forward to encouraging them to join in this path of creating and building the important links between Defence and Industry as they join the family business.
